

If you've driven 2K miles, you've been in an earthquake, and your car gets hit, I highly recommend you drink a bottle of wine. Or two. The pitcher of sangria was nice. To go cup of ice to the head, laugh like a hyena, embarrass the children, then cruise around proving there are no rollerskates at Sonic.

"I've never been quite so embarrassed before in my entire life! Then again, this is the first time I've met Miss Amber." - Kyle Klein.